The House Committee Adopts a Pacific Railroad Bill.

PROVISIONS OF THE MEASURE

A Long Session of Congress Predicted—Republican Congressional Committee Matters Relating to the Northwest—Capital Notes

WASHINGTON, April [illegible].—The house committee on Pacific railroads today adopted the bill forming [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of twenty years [illegible] the bonded debt of the [illegible] [illegible]

The bill as [illegible] [illegible] for the payment of the [illegible] the government after the following plan: To the present debt there is added interest that would accrue [illegible] the life time of the existing [illegible] [illegible] payments are [illegible] The total is divided into [illegible] equal [illegible] [illegible] twenty years [illegible] [illegible]

MORE DETAILS OF THE BILL.

[illegible] paid by each one of these companies on their subsidy bonds to the United States at their maturity. From this amount deduct payments on the bond and interest account that shall have been paid by each company to the 1st of October 1886. Also find the [illegible] value of the amounts in the sinking fund belonging to each company having [illegible] on a day to be fixed in an agreement between the secretary of the treasury and the president of the company interested. Compute the interest [illegible] at the rate of 3 per cent from the fixed day until the average date of maturity of the substitute bonds and [illegible] the amount so [illegible] interest from the amount of the debt and interest chargeable against the [illegible] [illegible] Compute the interest on the remainder of the debt and interest after making deductions at the rate of [illegible] per cent until such date as will be the average date of 140 semi-annual payments. Add this interest to the remainder of the debt and interest aforesaid and divide the sum so found into 140 equal parts, each company to pay the first of these equal installments April 1, 1887, and another every [illegible] months thereafter until [illegible] 140 shall have been paid.

The period of extension for payment of the last installment is fifty nine years beyond the date of the maturity of the substitute bonds, or an average extension of the whole debt of twenty four years beyond the date when the debt becomes due under the existing law.

In consideration of the extension thus granted all earnings of the roads by government transportation on any road owned, leased or operated by the company shall be applied to payment of [illegible] [illegible] maturing installments, and [illegible] moneys shall be paid by the government for transportation or service of any kind over aided or unaided roads until [illegible] [illegible] maturing shall be fully paid.

A LONG SESSION PREDICTED.

WASHINGTON, April [illegible].—Democrats [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] now settling to the belief that the present session of congress will [illegible] August notwithstanding talk by some [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] said [illegible] [illegible] I don't think we will get away before the middle of August. You see we have more [illegible] this session than we have had for many years. There is the question of building up our navy. Then we will have to settle on a comprehensive plan of coast defense and make a start in the construction of heavy ordnance. Debate on that bill will consume considerable time both in the house and in the senate and the river and harbor bill is also likely to consume some time. Then there will be a discussion upon the report of the commission that has investigated the [illegible] [illegible] and above all consideration of the [illegible] [illegible] question will help to spin out the [illegible] No, sir, said the senator, we shall be lucky if we get away by the middle of August.

[illegible] CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE.

THE AUSTRIAN MISSION.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The World's Washington special says: The household effects of the Austrian minister who is now away are advertised to be sold at auction next Thursday. This is considered evidence that the minister does not intend to return. Bayard does not intend to recommend the appointment of any minister to Austria on account of the rejection of Keiley. Schaeffer's withdrawal now means complete severance of diplomatic relations between the two countries.

SUBSTITUTE FOR THE BLAIR BILL.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The house committee on labor after a long and very animated session which lasted until 7 P. M. decided by a vote of 9 to [illegible] to report to the house as a substitute of the Blair educational bill a measure which, in substance, provides that receipts from the sale of public lands and other revenues of the general land office shall be divided among the several states and territories in proportion to their school population, for educational purposes for the next ten years. Twenty five per cent of the sum is to be used for industrial and technical instruction and the remainder for the support of common schools. The committee agreed that individual members should not be bound by their vote in committee either in support or against the measure when it comes up for consideration in the house.

A CHILDISH CUSTOM.

WASHINGTON, April [illegible].—A large number of children gathered in the White house grounds [illegible] the executive mansion at an early hour this morning to enjoy the annual custom of rolling [illegible] eggs over the many grassy knolls in that part of the grounds. A light shower of rain that began at noon did not disperse them but protected by waterproofs they continued their sports. Many grown people were interested spectators of the merry gambols of the children.

THE WILLIS EDUCATIONAL BILL.

WASHINGTON, April [illegible].—In the house committee on [illegible] for today after a full and lengthy discussion a vote was taken on a motion to report the Willis educational bill without recommendation. The motion was carried, but a motion to [illegible] [illegible] and pending action thereon the hour of [illegible] o'clock arrived and the committee took a recess.

Whitney with a [illegible] of some kind slipped back the bolt of the spring lock that fastens the door opening upon a narrow court between the city hall and the high fence of the stoneyard. Closing the door behind [illegible] the court he removed his striped prison trousers, having his own trousers underneath them, then he climbed over the fence at the rear end of the court and ran with all his speed out [illegible] avenue. Careful search was made for the fugitive but to no avail.

THE DR. ZEILE ESTATE.

SAN FRANCISCO, April [illegible].—Henry Fickow [illegible] [illegible] of Mathilde Josephine Zeile today filed a petition in the probate court setting forth that she is a legitimate daughter of the late Dr. Frederick Zeile, and objecting to partial distribution of the estate on the ground that she is heir at law of decedent and that most of the legatees have no real interest in the estate. Dr. Zeile died at Monte Carlo on April 6, 1884, leaving real estate in California, no other property, the total value of which was $[illegible]. He left a will which was properly probated and an order for partial distribution was to have been heard by Judge Coffey today, when Mr. B. Fickhoff filed his objections; the [illegible] asked continuance of the matter which was granted.

DECISION IN A FAMOUS CASE.

The state supreme court today decided in favor of plaintiff the famous riparian rights case of [illegible] vs. Miller. The Kern River Land and Canal company, which has been before the courts [illegible] [illegible] years. [illegible] defendants from diverting the waters of [illegible] river which flowed through lands of plaintiffs. The decision holds that the owners of the lands through which the water naturally flows have the right of property in its waters. Justice McKinstry wrote the decision, and Justices McKee, [illegible] and Sharpstein concurred. Chief Justice Morrison and Justices Ross and Myrick dissented.

AN OTHER ADVANCE IN SUGAR PROBABLE.

A special telegram from New York states that refined sugar has advanced three and a quarter [illegible] cent today, being now [illegible] cents. The strikers are holding out and propose to do so until the [illegible] [illegible] their demands, which there is very little probability will be done. Prospects are very small for a settlement of the existing trouble and the market is very firm. The San Francisco market will probably follow the advance and jobbers [illegible] are very active.

Strong Opposition to the Irish Land Bill—Violent Speeches Made in Ireland against Home Rule—Old World Notes

PARIS, April 26.—It is officially announced here that Greece, yielding to the advice of France to refrain from war, will at once disarm.

LONDON, April 26.—The statement that the Greek army will be disarmed is confirmed. The Greek chamber of deputies has been convoked. The combined fleet of the powers which had assembled to coerce Greece has departed. The sudden termination of the probability of war is received by the people with consternation.

LABOR ORGANIZING IN ENGLAND.

NEW YORK, April [illegible].—A special from London says: Agitation has been proceeding for months [illegible] [illegible] counties of England with a view of federating the trades, especially the iron and steel workers, in the hope that when the object is secured the organization will extend throughout the country. It was originally urged by some of the [illegible] to join the American Knights of Labor and correspondence on the subject between the executive authorities of the Knights and their English brethren was kept up for some time. The [illegible] of the proposal combatted the scheme on the grounds of the great distance which would [illegible] the English workers from the executive head of the organization and the consequent difficulty of obtaining advice in the event of a sudden strike or lockout. The Knights appointed two delegates to confer with English representatives, and tried hard to effect an alliance, but failed, and it has been resolved to organize a separate federation here and trust to future events for closer connection with the Knights.

OPPOSITION TO THE LAND BILL.

NEW YORK, April 26.—A London correspondent says: Opposition to the land bill is steadily increasing in strength. The fact is noteworthy that among the strongest objectors are some of the earliest supporters of Gladstone's general policy. [illegible] Selborne's letter, pointing out the inadequacy of the amount devoted to the purchase of estates, is but a conspicuous example of similar criticism from within the immediate circle of the premier's friends. [illegible] adherents have decided upon [illegible] collective statement of their objections to the land bill and will present it to the premier, with a request that the measure be dropped altogether.

LORD HARTINGTON'S POSITION.

LONDON, April [illegible].—Lord Hartington in a speech in Lancashire this evening said that no alteration [illegible] would remove his objections to the Irish [illegible] He did not wish to coalesce with the Tories but hoped with the assistance of Mr. Chamberlain, Mr. Trevelyan, Mr. Goschen, Sir Henry James, Mr. Bright, the Earl of Selborne, the Earl of Derby and the Duke of Argyle to create an independent party [illegible] the withdrawal of the measure. A portion of the audience made a hostile demonstration against the speaker.

PORTLAND, TUESDAY APRIL 27 1886

THE PANAMA CANAL AND THE MONROE DOCTRINE

Recently published reports [illegible] Panama canal justify the conviction [illegible] be completed within a term of [illegible] the energy and enthusiasm [illegible] the aid of France. This [illegible] the history of De Lesseps in the case of the [illegible] canal, which was finally finished by the French government. If the report that France will in the last extremity grant [illegible] to complete the canal proves true, the United States will be obliged before many years to decide whether it will permit a canal [illegible] to be under the control of one of the leading powers of Europe. With this [illegible] the Monroe doctrine becomes a [illegible] interest.

In 1815, after Napoleon had been wiped out at Waterloo, [illegible] Russia, Austria and Prussia [illegible] Paris, which was known as the Holy Alliance. On its face it was [illegible] regulate the states of Christendom [illegible] of Christianity, but its [illegible] was to defend the despotic governments [illegible] against all revolutions like the great [illegible] revolution, from whose armed head sprang that terrible child Bonaparte, whose sword [illegible] the thrones on the continent and set kings to groping about in the darkness of defeat for their fallen crowns. Austria, Russia and Prussia had a very painful memory of the visit of that terrible "man on horseback" to their capitals as conqueror, and the Holy Alliance was a league to strangle all popular revolutions in their birth lest out of anarchy and fever another Bonaparte should be born. To this Holy Alliance all the great powers of Europe acceded save England, which, as a free constitutional government, had no sympathy with this league of pure absolutism against popular freedom. The Holy Alliance interfered to suppress the insurrection in Naples and Piedmont in 1821, and under its pressure Bourbon France in 1823 marched an army under the Duke of Angoulême into Spain and defeated the patriots in the campaign of the Trocadero. France was supported in this outrage by Alexander, emperor of Russia, who offered to march an army to the Rhine. This Holy Alliance also proposed to help Spain reconquer her revolted Mexican and South American colonies, but George Canning, then prime minister of England, opposed this proposed re-establishment of Spanish despotism in America. The attitude of England encouraged the United States, that had already recognized the independence of the South American republics, to take strong ground on the subject of foreign intervention in the affairs of the American continent. President Monroe, in his annual message of December, 1823, boldly declared against the colonization of any portion of America by any European power.

This, known ever since as the Monroe doctrine, was not accepted by England and was distinctly repudiated by France and Russia. While England did not accept the Monroe doctrine, she did not denounce it. Canning was too shrewd a statesman to do this when he needed backing for his bold announcement that any attempt on the part of France to reconquer for Spain her revolted colonies in America would be followed by the immediate acknowledgment of their independence by England. England did acknowledge the independence of the South American states in 1825, and at that time Mr Canning expressed his obligations to the United States for their co-operation with England's efforts to defeat the scheme of the Holy Alliance to re-establish Spanish despotism in America. Had it not been for Canning and President Monroe, the Holy Alliance of the continental powers of Europe would have divided the reconquered South American colonies of Spain among themselves, even as Austria, Russia and Prussia divided Poland. Important, measured by the influence of its first utterance, the Monroe doctrine has never been severely tested by the stress of any subsequent events, but the prospect of the completion of the Panama canal by France as a national enterprise will force our government to decide whether to assert the Monroe doctrine to the fullest extremity of rigid construction or to qualify and modify it to meet the changed and changing attitude and situation of the United States toward the great powers of Europe. To declare this doctrine in 1823, when we were sure of England's support, was a bold but not a rash act, but to reiterate and enforce it to-day, without knowing what action England and the other powers of Europe would take, if the United States should refuse to let any great power of Europe control so important a water way as the Panama canal, would seem a course imprudent to the point of recklessness. The United States could not to-day enforce the Monroe doctrine to this extent against the united will of Europe, and therefore we do not look in the future for any strained construction of the Monroe doctrine that will place us in a position we can not reasonably hope to defend with success. The powers of Europe agree in sealing up the Dardanelles to the war vessels of Russia, whether for egress or ingress. England owns the Suez canal, so that she practically controls it to her commercial advantage, and in case of war to her military advantage, but she is able to do this only because thus far her administration has not been offensive or injurious to the great powers of the continent. It is by no means certain that Europe would submit to the Monroe doctrine in its extreme application to the control of the Panama canal, and if Europe did not consent the United States would [illegible] be compelled to let the Monroe doctrine sleep until our seaports are fortified and a fleet of first class ironclads is afloat.

THE JUDGES [illegible]

The supreme court rendered a decision yesterday to the effect that the provision of the constitution which prescribes six years as the term of judges in this state applies to the office rather than to the officer—in other words that a judge elected to fill a vacancy caused in any way, holds office only during the remainder of the term for which the retiring judge was elected. We have as yet only the announcement of this judgment, but it was based unquestionably upon the [illegible] of 1880, which in providing for a separate supreme court, declares that elections for district judges shall occur in 1880 and 1884 and every six years thereafter. [illegible] in the constitution the judges shall be chosen to serve for the term of six years.

The decision is a very important one at this time because all the district judges in the state, with a single exception, are holding office either by election to fill vacancies or by appointment from the governor. The senior judge of the Portland district, Judge Smith, was elected two years ago (after having served one year by appointment) to succeed Judge Stott, who was elected in 1880 and resigned in 1883. When Judge Smith was elected two years ago it was understood by himself and by the public generally, that his election was for a full term of six years. By this decision he loses four years of his term. There is a similar situation in other districts. Judge Webster, of the First district, after serving nine months by appointment to fill a vacancy, was elected two years ago. Under this decision he will lose four years. In the Second district, Judge Bean, who was elected in 1882, will lose two years. In the Fifth district, Judge Taylor will lose four years, and in the Sixth district Judge Olmstead will lose four years.

The decision will revolutionize the entire local judiciary of the state. Besides those mentioned above, there is a regular vacancy in the Third district (Boise's), while Stearns in the Fourth and Watkinds in the Seventh, now holding under appointment, will of course have to be succeeded by election. But while all terms end this year, it is believed that in nearly every case the present incumbent will be his own successor, so after all there are likely to be few changes.

An English newspaper tells us that Capt. Boycott, who will live in the English language as an active verb long after he shall have been forgotten as an Irish land agent, wants to sell his property in county Mayo, Ireland at public auction on the 6th of April, and remove to England. The same paper adds: "Capt. Boycott has been for many years a patron of the Irish turf, and kept some famous racers. He was agent for the estates of the earl of Erne, in Ireland, and his harshness and cruelty helped to precipitate the recent Irish land war. Since he was boycotted, six years ago, he has lived in peace with the tenantry and had grown as nearly popular as an Irish land agent could hope to be."

THE NEW ELECTION LAW

It has been determined that the recent decision of the supreme court as to the registry law affects only that part of the law relating to registration and that the part relating to the conduct of elections is in full force and authority. This law, under which we are soon to hold an election for the first time, does not differ essentially from the old election law. It provides a simple and definite system in the spirit of the old law, and for the most part in its identical terms, with the addition of a few regulations designed to protect the ballot and for the convenience of voters.

The most important change is respecting voting places. The new law requires county judges to readjust the precinct lines of the counties, and where necessary to subdivide these precincts into voting districts. This regulation is important only in the two or three of the larger cities of the state. In Portland particularly, great annoyance has resulted in times past from the crowding of polling places. The city has been divided into five precincts, each with one voting place, but the number has not been sufficient. The natural effect has been crowded polls and severe hardship and tedious delay in counting the ballots. Under the new regulation the city is covered by two precincts, in which there are nine polling places—one for every 500 voters, it is calculated. In locating the polling places the convenience of the voters has been the main consideration. A statement of precinct and district lines in Portland has already been given through THE OREGONIAN and will be reprinted before the day of election.

There is an important regulation designed to protect careless voters from bogus and fraudulent tickets. It is provided that tickets shall be printed only on a particular kind of paper, to be furnished for that purpose by the secretary of state, and it shall be unlawful to counterfeit a party ticket or interpolate or substitute names upon it. Another provision is that all changes from a ticket as printed—that is, all scratching—must be in writing. "Pasters," or printed slips, heretofore largely used in altering tickets, will not be allowed, and such alterations will not be counted. For convenience, it is provided that there shall be separate boxes for state and local officers, and to protect voters from surveillance and annoyance, only officers of election and deputed challengers shall be allowed within one hundred feet of the poll. Voters will advance singly and deposit their ballots, free from the "dogging" so common in times past. To secure order, judges of election are given judicial authority to fine and imprison persons who may disturb or seek to disturb the proper order of the occasion.

These, we believe, are the only notable changes provided in the new law. They are all clearly in the interest of honesty and convenience and may easily be understood and carried out. The law has just been issued from the office of the state printer in the form of a thin volume, but the work is so slovenly (without annotation or index) that it will overwhelm rather than direct officers of election.

Cannerymen of the lower Columbia having failed to make terms with the discordant element that proposed to run their business in its own interests, have combined to protect men willing to fish on reasonable terms from outrage and violence at the hands of strikers. Fruit growers in California, finding adjustment of difficulties with boycotters impossible, have in some localities formed like combinations. Wherever legitimate industry is threatened by lawless men this action will become necessary. The sooner that men who own and operate the various industries of the country take a determined stand in this matter the better it will be for capable, sober and willing workingmen, who are by thousands standing in their shirt-sleeves, ready and anxious to go to work. A willing host, asking only opportunity to earn a living, has long enough been terrorized by lawless men, who assume to dictate terms to them. We hope to see the willing fishermen on the lower Columbia given a chance to improve the opportunity that is brief at best, to earn money of which they and their families stand in need. The action of the cannerymen in this matter is commendable.

The "labor" demonstration in Chicago on Sunday, in which thousands of aliens marched under red banners, carrying mottoes in foreign languages menacing to the industrial life of the nation, was gravely suggestive of the mistake that has been made in supposing that all men are able to appreciate the blessings of liberty and that all are capable of self government. The term "An asylum for the oppressed" suggests a beautiful theory, but in reducing it to practice some of the larger cities of the United States have become swarming places for communism and its attendant outrages. Men whose greatest grievance is that a working day is ten hours long, and who voice, in a foreign tongue, their indignation at being advised by a sober intelligent friend of labor to "drink water as cattle do," furnish an exemplification of this "asylum of the oppressed" idea that can scarcely be said to give encouragement to push the experiment further. Men who interpret the term liberty to mean license grow troublesome in [illegible] upon the consideration shown them.

A New York paper says: "A proper bill for the improvement of real harbors and real rivers we would not object to." This remark is [illegible] in an article against the river and harbor bill, which the Post always opposes. To it an Illinois paper responds: "That is, of real harbors and real rivers," such as we have down East, we know. But none of the bogus streams such as [illegible] out West." This is a fair answer. The second rate [illegible] than [illegible] the East, and drain larger areas.

[illegible] directly to the [illegible] Here at last we have a grievance that demands redress. Music as taught in the public schools is generally a succession of rasping, discordant sounds, in every key which make life a burden not only to the musician by compulsion, but to everybody within earshot of his performance. Let these [illegible] be encouraged. They are backed by common sense and a just cause.

It appears that Mr Powderly, in remonstrating with some of his people on their habits of extravagance and dissipation, said, among other things: "Drink water as cattle do." This is taken in some quarters as an insult, and it was resented at a meeting of socialists in Chicago on Sunday. To tell man, the noble beer drinker, to "drink water, as cattle do." It is worse than any of the insults that have proceeded from Jay Gould.

The democratic party of Kentucky is threatened with disintegration. The inciting cause is the appointment of Mrs. Thompson as postmistress of Louisville. That this important office should be thrown away upon a woman, not even, so far as appeared in her application the widow of a Confederate brigadier is considered an outrage, to which Kentucky democrats can not, in consideration of their past services and sufferings, submit.

The glass factories at Pittsburg profited largely by the strike of last month in Belgium. The foreign production of glassware was, it is claimed curtailed fifty per cent. by this strike, causing an increased demand for the American product, and a consequent advance of five per cent in price.

It is rumored that an ordinance authorizing the offering of a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of any one guilty of bribery at the coming election. Gerdes says the ordinance is to be introduced by Forbes and that he will support it. Of course the reward will have to be paid out of the general fund and don't anybody wish he may get it.

The talk about a bridge across the river has given a lift to the real estate business on the east side. Quite a number of workingmen have purchased lots and are erecting homes in the southern suburbs of East Portland. There has been lots of talk about hard times, but property on this side is still at boom prices, which causes men of limited means to cross the river for cheap lots.

May 1st is known as "moving day" at the East and it may as well be set down for the same here in the future. There are quite a number of parties moving on First street, and cards are displayed in several places stating the premises will be occupied by —— on or about May 1. As for families that are always on the move, and the 1st of one month is about the same as the 1st of any other.

[illegible] & Co. offer a prize of $10 for the best poem announcing the May Day opening of The Bouquet. Number of lines limited to fifty. Competition open for ladies only. Privilege of publication reserved. No communication on the subject entertained after 8 o'clock P. M. Saturday May 1. [illegible] C. A. Coburn of THE OREGONIAN will award the prize. Address The Bouquet [illegible] Morrison street.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

APPEALING FROM VIEWERS' REPORT.—At a meeting of the common council held on the 7th of the present month an ordinance was passed adopting the report of G. G. Gammans, C. C. Redman and H. S. Allen viewers in the matter of the proposed extension of D street from North Nineteenth to North Twenty second street and assessing the benefits and damages. Yesterday several owners of property along the line of the contemplated opening or improvement of D street as laid out appealed to the state circuit court from the report filed with and adopted by the common council, as to the amount of benefits. F. Opitz alleges that it was reported that he would receive benefits of the value of $600 if the extension is made. He states, however that instead he would be damaged in a large sum of money and asks relief accordingly. Jessie Honeyman who owns quite a strip of land along the line of the proposed improvement, alleges that she will be damaged $[illegible] and has only been allowed $600. Louis Beno has been voted to receive $475 damages and demands $1,500. Richard Knoll and Kate Knoll want $[illegible] each on two separate pieces of property which they were allowed but $600 damages. The different cases will come up for trial during the May term of the state circuit court.

ADVANCE IN FREIGHT RATES.—The O. R. & N. Co. yesterday issued a circular announcing an advance in east bound freight from Pacific coast terminals to Chicago, St. Louis and common points. It is 50 per cent of the rate under the old transcontinental association, subject however to the minimum of 60 cents to eastern terminals and 65 cents to Chicago. For west bound freights the rates on business which passed Chicago on the 2d instant or thereafter will be 50 per cent of the old rates, subject to the minimums mentioned above. The transcontinental lines however promise that all bills of lading issued east of Chicago prior to the 2d will be protected. The advance from bedrock rates to 50 per cent of the old tariff is an unmistakable step toward restoration of the tariff. When the association went to pieces the first reduction was a cutting in two of the rates. Now the companies are back to this first cut. No advance has been made in passenger rates which are now the same from Portland as from San Francisco and it is thought present rates will be kept in force until some agreement is entered into by warring lines.

UP PRIEST'S RAPIDS.—Mr. C. A. Dolph, attorney for the O. R. & N. Co., who accompanied Manager Prescott and party over part of the upper Columbia trip, returned home Sunday. On the morning of the 14th the steamer John Gates in command of Capt. Troupe began the ascent of the first rapids of the series known as Priest's rapids, going up the left bank. The first rapids are 64 yards long and it required one hour and eighteen minutes to get over them, the steamer lining herself up for most of the distance. There are four rapids above the one already passed, the whole length being about eleven miles, but both the reports of engineers and the observations of steamboat men indicate that the most difficult portion of the river below the mouth of the Okanagan is already passed over and it is now thought that Manager Prescott and party will succeed in reaching that point by steamer.

DID NOT SECURE THEIR MAN.—Deputy U. S. Marshal Charles Frush and Timber Agent McMormick who went down to San Francisco on the State of California in quest of J. H. Cavanaugh, charged with gobbling up too much government land, have returned. They found Cavanaugh but could not get him out of California and they are not satisfied with the manner in which the law is administered in that state. Commissioner Sawyer discharged Cavanaugh on the strength of a decision in Sawyer in the case of the United States vs. White. He said it seemed that the United States had been paid all it asked for the land Cavanaugh had acquired and therefore no one had been swindled and no fraud had been committed. He was probably not aware that the decision in Sawyer had been reversed by the supreme court of the United States, in the case of the United States vs. Minor.

WANTS MORE DAMAGES.—A communication from Robert Bragg, through his attorneys Watson, Hume & Watson, has been received by the common council calling attention to the fact that the unhitching and registering devices in use by the fire department of this city and known as the Coffee devices are infringements upon letters patent reissued to Robert Bragg, and giving notice that unless such use is discontinued it crosses suit will be instituted to restrain the same and to recover damages for such infringement. Mr. Bragg is the same party who sometime since recovered damages in the sum of $2000 from the city for an infringement on his patents for an unhitching device and market. The ones now in use are the invention of A. J. Coffee, the superintendent of the fire alarm department of this city, who claims that they do not in any way infringe Bragg's patent.

ALL CIRCUIT JUDGES TO BE ELECTED IN JUNE.—Yesterday afternoon the supreme court rendered a decision which settles all controversies as to whether the circuit judges elected at the last election held for two years or for the full term of six years. They retire from office July next. A case was prepared in Lane county which involved the point in dispute. The county clerk, Joe Ware, refused to include in his formal notice of a general election that a circuit judge was to be voted for. W. S. Shaw, a resident of Lane county, applied to the state circuit court for a mandamus compelling the clerk to issue such notice. Judge Bean granted the mandamus and the case was appealed to the supreme court who sustained Judge Bean. Two judges are to be elected in this district to succeed Judges Smith and Stearns.

EXAMINATION FOR HOMICIDE.—C. H. Girardat who shot and killed Emil La Plane last Thursday morning had a partial examination in the police court yesterday. He was represented by James A. Campbell as counsel and Deputy District Attorney Gleason took care of the state's interests. The prosecuting attorney examined his witnesses, after which the case was put over until to-day. Nothing in the evidence submitted differed materially from the statement of the affair already published in THE OREGONIAN. There was some testimony to the effect that La Plane on the morning of the shooting expressed himself in the Warwick Castle saloon that there would be a row, a fight, quarrel or something of that sort between him and Girardat before long.

RAN AWAY.—David Gray, the youth who admitted having set fire to the International hotel, recently ran away from the home provided for him by the Boys and Girls Aid society and went to Astoria. But for the interest taken in the lad by the leading members of the society he would have been sent to the penitentiary. Gray came here from Liverpool as a stowaway on a ship and his going to Astoria would denote that he desires returning home by the same method. The authorities have been telegraphed to catch and arrest him, but if Gray succeeds in getting a ship and skipping out this community will not have lost much.

GEISMARDO.—The argument of the motion for a new trial in the Geismardo case will be heard Wednesday by Judge Stearns. Ever since Geismardo took poison he has been under the care of a nurse and a physician has attended him. He is still quite ill, but is an adept at feigning sickness. Strange to say he has not taken any of his own medicines, although he has a liberal supply of them in his cell. He is, however, blessed with a strong constitution and in the event of no mishap will pull through all right.

EXCURSIONS.—For a short, pleasant and cheap steamboat excursion take the new swift and elegant steamer Multnomah this afternoon at [illegible] o'clock. Landing foot of Alder street, south side. Connecting with steamer Bonita at Vancouver, affording excursionists an opportunity to view the lovely snow capped mountains as the steamer passes to the mouth of the Willamette river. Returning arrive at Portland at [illegible] P. M. Fare for round trip [illegible]. An elegant piano in ladies' cabin.

CHARLEY FURK SHOT.—Several parties who arrived from Astoria yesterday report that Charley Furk was shot twice near Cathlamet and is likely to die. Particulars of the affair were not learned, but according to all accounts Furk was in a boat and had some trouble with the striking fishermen. [illegible] Charley Furk is well known [illegible] and is the son of James Furk [illegible].

ODD FELLOWS' ANNIVERSARY.—[illegible] celebration in this city yesterday of the founding of Odd Fellowship, but in the evening Enterprise Lodge No. [illegible] held services appropriate to the occasion. After a regular session the doors were thrown open and members of sister lodges with their wives and families to the number of about 300 entered. Mr. J. G. Chapman, noble grand of the lodge, presided. Mr. G. G. Ames, vice grand, delivered an appropriate address.

SEMI-MONTHLY STEAMERS FOR ALASKA.—To accommodate the tourist travel promised from the East the Pacific Coast Steamship company will send steamers from this port to Alaska every fifteen days during May, June and July, and perhaps during August. The Idaho will leave here on the 14th inst. and on the 1st of June and July. Either the Mexico or the Ancon will be the intermediate steamer.

REDUCED FARES FOR DELEGATES.—Arrangements have been made by the democratic state central committee with the principal transportation lines for reduced rates of fare for delegates to the state convention. Full fare will be charged to Portland, and on presentation of certificates from the secretary of the convention return tickets will be furnished for 50 per cent of the usual fare, good until the [illegible]th.

THE WINNING TICKET.—Mark Lewis was the liveliest man uptown last night and in the excitement of the moment inveigled an OREGONIAN man in to witness the drawing. The store was filled with an anxious crowd, each on tiptoe of expectancy. At last a little girl put her hand into the box and drew out ticket No. 44. The prize—an elegant pitcher—awaits the lucky one.

FREE PUBLIC BALL.—A free May day ball will take place at the Pavilion on Saturday night next. A grand Maypole dance by eight young ladies with colored calcium lights, and a moonlight waltz will take place during the evening. Prize waltzing for two valuable prizes will take place at 11 P. M. Gentlemen will be charged 50 cents for hat checks.

DROWNED.

First Fatal Boating Accident of the Season—Bold Effort to Rescue

Otto Radomsky, a lithographer, was drowned in the Willamette river yesterday afternoon about 6 o'clock. Radomsky in company with a friend named Adolph Fick left Lachapelle's boat house between 4 and 5 o'clock in a shell and rowed up to Ross island. On their return and when about half way between the boat Louise and the island, the swell of a passing steamer caused the shell to capsize, throwing the occupants into the water. They held on to the boat for some time and tried to right her, but she had filled with water and kept turning, so that their efforts proved unsuccessful. Radomsky started to swim for the east shore and Fick followed him. Fick, who was the better swimmer of the two, swam past Radomsky and turning around to look back saw him sink. Fick swam back and catching hold of Radomsky endeavored to raise him to the surface and assist him. Radomsky then caught hold of Fick and pulled him down, and while under the water Fick managed to free himself and on coming up swam ashore. Radomsky also again reached the surface and made a desperate but unsuccessful effort to keep afloat. Immediately on reaching the east shore Fick divested himself of his clothing and started back to help his friend. He paddled around in the water for an hour in his efforts to find him, [illegible] as Radomsky [illegible] sank for the last time. Fick towed the shell boat [illegible] Portland. On his arrival he notified Radomsky's friends of the sad occurrence and also informed the coroner of what had happened. The body has not yet been discovered.

Radomsky was a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., unmarried and about 28 years of age. He came here something less than two years since under engagement to Anderson & Co. as a transferrer in their lithographing department and was with them till a few weeks since, when he entered the employ of Lewis & Dryden. He leaves a mother in Brooklyn.

Both men were good oarsmen, but Fick was by far the best swimmer and it is on this account that he was able to save his own life.

THE COURTS

In Justice Bybee's court yesterday morning, I. Jacobi got judgment against W. E. Burns on a promissory note for $160 42. The defense was that the note was executed by Burns before he attained his majority. This fact however was not sufficiently established to the satisfaction of the court.

Yesterday in the county court George Fitz was appointed guardian of his children, George, Jacob and Josephine Fitz. The property in question consists of $[illegible] and other assets of a minor kind left to the children by their grandfather. Fitz was required to give a bond of $[illegible] for the faithful performance of his trust.

An order has been received from the supreme court in the case of A. R. Knoll vs. H. H. Kiessling and Emeline W. Kiessling of East Portland. The judgment of the lower court is confirmed except so far as the decree directs a recovery from the defendant Emeline W. Kiessling. This portion of the decree is set aside.

To foreclose a mortgage held by W. W. McBride against M. F. Culver on a portion of two lots at [illegible] and Fifth streets, East Portland, Sheriff Jordan yesterday sold the property. The amount of the mortgage was $[illegible].

POLICE COURT

The prisoners' dock in the police court was well filled yesterday, most of the offenders being drunks. A dozen or more of them were let off with a fine of $5 each. [illegible] Tim Sullivan, an old timer, Tim when arraigned said, "Well, this is kind of funny. I brought myself in. I saw I was about to get drunk and thought I might as well tumble into jail as to go anywhere else." Judge Dement in passing sentence remarked, "Then I'll try a small fine this time and see if it will encourage you any." A [illegible] from the country, on coming into town, succeeded in getting very drunk and very abusive when arrested. He got five days. Another new arrival, John Kelly, was tried and convicted of begging. Policeman Griffin testified that Kelly had gone into a restaurant because he refused to give him money. Kelly had only been in town six hours and according to the officer's statement he commenced plying his vocation very early. As he looked very tired he was given twelve days in which to recuperate. A sailor named Ludwickson was up on a charge of striking Ah Lee, a Chinaman. The accused's statement was that the Chinaman swore at him and hit him and he merely held him off. In order to have time to secure witnesses Ludwickson had the case continued until to-day. Ah Gay was tried for the larceny of three loaves of bread. Henry Miller, a baker, stopped his wagon at 6 o'clock yesterday morning on Morrison street near Second to serve a customer when the Chinaman came along and was helping himself when Miller interfered and turned him over to Policeman Hart. Ah Gay claimed he was told to help himself and that he did it. It was proved conclusively that he prevaricated as he was caught in the act of stealing. He will not be able to help himself again for thirty days to come but will be housed in the county jail and have his meals brought to him.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT

New England Mortgage Savings company vs. Sheriff Martin and Umatilla county—Exceptions to bill for impertinence disallowed.

Branson vs. the Willamette Valley railroad et al.—Motion to remand to the state court denied; plaintiff allowed ten days to reply.

Shaw vs. Capitol Flouring Mills Co.—Demurrer to amended complaint argued and submitted.

Elliott vs. Capitol Flouring Mills Co.—Same action.

[illegible] speeches were made by Messrs. [illegible], Hendricks and others [illegible]. The name [illegible] was changed to [illegible] republican [illegible]. The [illegible] meetings will hereafter be held at the call of the president.

The executive committee on the erection of a bridge across the Willamette river at this point held a meeting on Saturday evening last to take into consideration a report submitted by the surveying engineer, Carl Powell, as to the best location for said structure. He submitted two points, either the construction of a draw bridge at the foot of Chemeketa street, or one without a draw at the foot of Center street. In case it was deemed advisable to adopt the latter location boats could use the ordinary channel during the greater portion of the year. During the prevalence of high water however the bridge could be so constructed as to permit any upper river craft to pass beneath its center with perfect safety. The estimated cost of the structure was submitted at $41,000. Specifications will be at once submitted to well known bridge builders with a view of receiving bids for its construction.

Easter Sunday with its attendant festivities passed off very pleasantly in this city, special services being held in the Episcopal and Catholic churches. Rev. J. Taylor Chambers of St. Paul's Episcopal church preached to a very large congregation, the church being filled to its utmost capacity, taking for his text the memorable words "Christ has risen indeed." The church was exquisitely decorated with choice floral offerings and the musical selections were not only appropriate but well rendered. The Easter offerings which were especially devoted to the payment of the indebtedness on the new rectory amounted in cash and pledges to $170 10, in addition to which $22 was contributed towards paying the running expenses of the church. To this might be added the amount contributed by the Sunday school for missionary work amounting to $28 01, making the total Easter offerings outside of amount contributed for the support of the rector $226 11. The children's festival held in the evening was of a most interesting character, the programme embracing Easter carols and address by the rector, the awarding of an elegant silk banner to Mrs. J. T. Chambers's class for the largest Easter offering, and the distribution of Easter eggs among the little people. The Saturday preceding Easter was observed by the congregation by sending to the home of the rector a liberal supply of the good things of life in the way of family groceries, provisions, canned fruits etc., to the agreeable surprise of the well pleased recipients. The annual church meeting will take place this evening, at the conclusion of which Rev. and Mrs. Chambers will entertain their friends and the congregation generally at the rectory. Taken altogether the Easter festivities of '86 will be long and pleasantly remembered by all participants.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Many Delegates Already Here—A Disposition not to be Bossed

Although the republican state convention does not meet till to-morrow, more than half the 206 delegates are already here. The various delegations from east of the mountains and the delegations from Clatsop and Columbia are fully represented and are established with headquarters at the St. Charles hotel. A goodly number of delegates from the Willamette valley counties have arrived, but we believe none of the valley delegations will be complete till to-night.

The scene in the St. Charles lobby last night was a busy one till a late hour, calling to mind the familiar hubbub in the Chemeketa at Salem during legislative sessions. Most of the delegates were in search of information which was extremely scarce, the Portland managers evidently not deeming it prudent to set their agents at work among the country members thus early in the contest. On the part of the latter there was a good deal of earnest talk against ring domination and it was declared boldly that the game played here last week in local affairs should not be repeated in the state convention. It is possible that this will cause the manipulators to reorganize their scheme, but if the slate already prepared will not go another will be made and the country delegates will have to be very wary if they are not again made the victims of adroit management.

Few of the candidates have yet arrived. Snodgrass and Moomaw, rivals for the treasurership, and McBride and Matschek, rivals for the secretaryship, were the only declared candidates in the lobby last night.

THE STAGE

THE CASINO.—Balfe's ever bright and tuneful opera "The Bohemian Girl" was given for the first time by the Thompson opera company last evening to one of the largest and most fashionable audiences of the season. The Lenten tide being over, many faces were seen which for several weeks have been missed from the first night performances, and to judge by their facial expressions and the vigor of their applause, the opera was thoroughly enjoyed by them. Especial interest centered in this production from the facts that Mr. Murray, whose rich voice has been so much appreciated, was to essay the role of Count Arnheim, a more difficult one than he has yet undertaken, and Mr. Kinross, whose musical and dramatic abilities are well known to Portlanders, was to sing the part of Devilshoof. While there was some degree of nervousness apparent in one or two of the cast, the opera was a decided success. Mr. Murray's Count Arnheim was very creditably done, his singing of "The Heart Bowed Down" receiving a hearty encore. While betraying considerable nervousness, he was evidently so earnest and eager to fulfill the demands of the part that he surprised his many friends by the general excellence of his rendition. By close study and hard work for the next two or three years Mr. Murray can attain an enviable position in the operatic profession. The Flowerstein of Miss Vining was somewhat of a disappointment. She dressed and looked the part most admirably, but failed to catch the spirit of the role. There was not sufficient of the joy in the characterization. Mr. Branson's Thaddeus was in all respects a superb personation, especially in the singing. We have never heard "The Fair Land of Poland" sung with such fervor and true spirit as he threw into it. The audience was electrified and a double encore was given him. Mr. Kinross as Devilshoof was very effective and his full voice was heard to fine advantage in the concerted pieces, particularly in the duet with the arrest in the second act. His acting throughout was good, not overstepping the bounds of naturalness. A feature of the performance and by all odds the most dramatic was Miss Godfrey's singing of the role of the Gipsy Queen. The introduced song, "It was a Dream," was magnificently given and twice redemanded, and her rendering of the recitative in the last act was most artistic. Miss Hall made a charming Arline. Her first song, "I Dreamt I Dwelt in Marble Halls," was admirably sung as was also her duet with Thaddeus in the first act, but the neatest bit of work she did was the little song in the last act, "See at Thy Feet." Of the concerted pieces the quartette, "From the Valleys and Hills," by Misses Godfrey and Hall and Messrs. Kinross and Branson, and the trio, "Through the World Wilt Thou Fly, Love," by Miss Hall and Messrs. Kinross and Branson were especially well given, and the male chorus throughout was exceptionally fine. The stage setting and costuming were all that could be wished. The opera should run to full houses the remainder of the week.

THE NEW MARKET.—The Georgia minstrels who have been doing the Willamette valley will give three performances this week at the New Market, Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee. They give a street parade and have a brass band.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

THE WORK OF A VILLAIN

ST. LOUIS, April 26.—A special from Benton, Mo., to the Post Dispatch states that Rev. Benj. Deering of St. Louis has been for some days past holding a series of temperance revival meetings, which have been wonderfully successful. Last night some one as yet unknown—placed in the pitcher of water which the revivalist had placed upon the desk from which he was speaking a large quantity of croton oil. Several persons drank of the water before the services began and became deathly sick, but not knowing the cause of their illness failed to warn Deering not to drink from the pitcher. The latter during his discourse drank a glass of water and was immediately taken sick. All who tasted the water are to-day in a precarious condition. Two saloon keepers have been arrested on suspicion, and it is thought they poisoned the water in order to end the services which were having such a depressing effect upon their business.

THE GOLDEN GATE PARK VICTIM

DENVER, April 26.—Dr. F. W. Hirsch, who was found murdered in Golden Gate park near San Francisco yesterday, lived in Denver four years ago. He was a Hebrew magnetic physician and had a very lucrative practice. One of his patients was a young French girl, servant in the family of a [illegible], who was suffering from lung disease. The doctor became fascinated with the personal attractions of the girl and succeeded in seducing her. She was soon in a delicate condition, when Hirsch sought to get out of the dilemma by procuring an abortion. While working to obtain that object the girl confided her condition to her employer, who obtained Hirsch's arrest and conviction. His sentence to the penitentiary for four years recently expired. Hirsch going West since which nothing had been heard of him.

THE MAXWELL MURDER CASE.

ST. LOUIS, April 26.—Depositions in the case of Walter H. Lennox Maxwell, alias Hugh M. Brooks, charged with the murder of C. Arthur Preller in the Southern hotel about a year ago, arrived from England to-day, having been forwarded to J. H. Brooks by J. Hyde of Cheshire, Eng., and special commissioner in the case. The depositions are made by those who knew Brooks in his early life and up to the time when he started on his tour in America. All the witnesses testify that the prisoner bore a good reputation while he resided in England and they know of no serious misconduct by defendant. The case will be called May 10th.

The Stomach as a Gasometer

In the dyspeptic stomach impure gases are generated after meals that distend and distress it as well as the bowels. The best carminative for cramps, colicky pains and heartburn or bilious eructation is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Carbonate of soda and other so-called carminatives are far inferior to it in efficacy, and as physicians now understand, impair the tone of the stomach. Copious libations of any sort are injurious to the stomach, and to dilute its juices is certainly not the way to increase their digestive usefulness. Aided by the Bitters the digestive organs when enfeebled and disordered regain their lost tone and regularity, not of course immediately, but with a degree of rapidity highly indicative of the excellence of the remedy. It has the further effect of regulating the bowels and liver, protecting the system against malaria, relieving rheumatism and neuralgia and increasing constitutional vigor.

THE EAST SIDE.

Built on the Wrong Lot—Death's Work—General Notes and News.

Several weeks ago Mr. H. Johnson of Elizabeth Irving's addition, began the erection of a cottage upon a lot which he supposed he had bought some time previous. The edifice had nearly approached completion when Mr. Johnson made the startling discovery that he had built his mansion upon somebody else's property, the lot he had purchased being situated in another part of the block. The mistake grew out of the fact that the block in Irving's addition contain twelve lots while almost other parts of the city they have only eight. Mr. Johnson bought lot No. 8 and of course took it for granted that it was a corner lot, whereas it was in reality an inside lot. On Friday and Saturday last the house mover had a job removing the new cottage to its proper place.

A DEAR ONE GONE

At [illegible] yesterday morning little Alice Gertrude Bartel was called into the golden hereafter. The little one had been suffering for a number of weeks past with malarial fever and death had been an expected visitor for a good many days. Deceased was [illegible] months and was the beloved child of Walter H. Bartel, the well known [illegible] smith. The funeral will take place at 3 P. M. to-day from the residence of John Wenb, south side of I street between Fourth and Fifth.

DEATH OF WINNING M'MILLAN

On Sunday evening Winning McMillan, son of City Marshal H. J. McMillan, breathed his last and succumbed to the embrace of death. Deceased was aged [illegible] years and was a boy of much promise. The cause of his death was lung disease, a trouble which grew out of a severe cold contracted on Decoration Day one year ago. The funeral will take place at [illegible] o'clock this afternoon from the residence corner Eighth and Q streets, Rev. S. P. Wil[illegible] officiating.

NOTES

Mrs. H. M. Pierce is confined to her bed with malarial fever.

It is reported that A. J. Knott is in Washington City instead of being at his mines in Montana.

Freight Train Wrecked and Two Men Murdered.

THE LABOR TROUBLES INCREASING

Railroad Notes from Various Points—Bloody Fight with Moonshiners—Prohibition Defeated in Virginia.

KANSAS CITY April 26 —An incoming freight train on the Missouri Pacific railroad was wrecked at 4 o'clock this morning between Wyandotte and this city The spikes had been removed from the rails on a curve and when the train approached the engine and four freight cars went off the track down a low embankment The engine rolled over and tipped bottom side up at the water's edge. Ben Worton fireman and George Carlisle brakeman, were killed outright Engineer Fowler was thrown into the river and seriously injured No clue to the identity of the perpetrators of the outrage has been obtained

The scene of the wreck is about two miles from this city The Missouri Pacific there skirts the bluffs which line the west bank of the Kansas river and passes under a street bridge which connects Wyandotte with Kansas City Engineer Fowler says that he slacked speed on approaching the bend of the river keeping a sharp lookout As the train passed under the bridge it was going about six miles an hour He saw several men in a group apparently watching for something to happen The engineer reached for a rifle that he carried and just then the train struck the loosened rails He reversed his engine and jumped off landing at the water's edge. The fireman was caught under the engine and was killed. His body was recovered at 9 o'clock A brakeman who was on the forward car was carried down and was crushed to death It is asserted that a man named Converse who was among the crowd of spectators on the bluffs above the track fell over the bluff to-day and was fatally injured It was also said that three men were seen going rapidly up the track after the accident and refusing to halt were fired upon by watchmen and deputies but without effect and the fugitives made for the woods and escaped

FORCIBLE POSSESSION TAKEN

KANSAS CITY April [illegible] —An Atchison Kan special says that strikers this afternoon took forcible possession of the Missouri Pacific yards there driving out all the men who had gone to work since the strike began six weeks ago The strikers organized in the yard and marched to the shops, where the workers went out with but little protest, bloodshed being thus avoided The fires in the shops were drawn and a guard appointed to prevent any new men returning to work

STRIKES AT ST LOUIS

ST LOUIS April 26 —Forty five boys employed as helpers by the Great Western glass company struck for higher wages to-day throwing out of work seventy five dependent on performing their duties upon the services of the boys

Two hundred striking employes of the Missouri Car and Foundry company held a meeting yesterday to hear the report of their committee appointed the day before to call upon President McMillan and persuade him to concede to their demand that the company cease furnishing repair material to the Missouri Pacific The committee stated that they had called on McMillan but could not obtain an assurance from him that their demands would be complied with The meeting then adopted resolutions setting forth their reasons for striking and declaring that they will not return to work until their demands are conceded All the strikers however were not present and those absent not being bound by the action of the meeting returned to their old places at work this morning. Several new men also applied for places and there are at work about 200 men in all President McMillan says that the management of the company will take back all old employes who apply for work to-day and will employ all the efficient new men who desire to enter the company's service. He says the works will be in full operation by the end of the week

Contractors and builders here to the number of 300 recently organized to take some definite action upon the eight hour agitation It is said this morning that builders generally had agreed to consider eight hours a day's work and to pay employes 30 cents per hour

THE NEW YORK STRIKE

NEW YORK April 26 —The strike on the Third avenue surface railroad still continues unchanged. Sixty cars are running to-day

Before the grand jury adjourned to-day they returned indictments found upon an affidavit made by the Third avenue railroad officials It charges several persons with conspiracy and while the names of the parties could not be ascertained it is generally believed that the indictments are against the committee of the Empire Protective association whose names were affixed to the order for the general "tie up" of the surface roads in this city last week Bench warrants were presumably drawn up by the recorder and they will likely be executed within a few hours

NEW YORK April 26 This afternoon one of the strikers placed stones in the groove of the company's cable branch on a steep decline and loss of life was prevented only by the caution that was exercised in the operation of the cars The man whose name is Miller was arrested Several arrests of drivers on other lines have been made to-day for malicious interference with the drivers of the Third avenue road

The fact that indictments against some sixty leading strikers have been found caused excitement among the latter to-night. The strikers will begin running stages on Third avenue to-morrow, from Harlem to City hall The executive board of the strikers will be arrested it is believed at an early hour to-morrow morning

EFFECT ON THE BUILDING TRADES

NEW YORK April 26 —Inquiry among the leading real estate men shows that rents for all classes of property for living purposes have been raised from 10 to 25 per cent. Strikes and labor troubles in the building trade are preventing the commencement of many new buildings It is thought this will cause an increase in rents next [illegible] The effect of labor troubles [illegible] the building in the city can hardly be estimated and it is feared that building in this city will be practically suspended this summer on this account

The same story comes from Boston in regard to the effect of labor agitation on the building trade A special to the [illegible] says A struggle of most serious import is about to begin in this city over the eight hour movement The hope of the central trades and labor unions of a ready acquiescence by a large proportion of employers in the experiment proves groundless In accordance with plans made a year ago the demand made for eight hours was to be enforced May 1 In view of the disturbed condition of labor it was recently determined to limit the demand to the building trades The central trades and labor union recently made public many replies received from employers in answer to questions sent out. This has resulted in an address published to-day, signed by 125 employers in the building trades The address declares there is nothing in the present outlook to warrant any such change and that any attempt to arbitrarily enforce it will simply result in the retirement of capital from business enterprises which is now occurring Their conclusions are summed up in the following recommendation The hours of labor rate of wages and time of payment will remain as at present but on Saturday eight hours will be counted as a day's labor Probably the employes will decline to yield any point in their demands and will resort to a strike The painters and decorators so voted yesterday

THE SUN ON THE LABOR QUESTION

NEW YORK April 26 —The Sun's leader under the head of "The great question of the times" says "It is estimated that 50 000 workingmen in various branches of industry have struck work in different parts of the country Some of these strikes notably those of railroad laborers have produced extensive interruption of business and excited great attention and anxiety A most remarkable fact about these strikes is that they occur at a time when the wages of laborers are very much better than they ever have been before The workingmen are really better off than they ever have been They never had less apparent cause to demand higher wages or strike work for less reason than they have now In this extraordinary situation the like of which has not been witnessed for forty years It is wonderful to see how vain is the wisdom of our statesmen and how little our philosophers and public guides contribute toward solving the problems that are weakening and arresting the stronger races of men In 1849-60-61 discoveries of gold in California and Australia resulted in vast and continued additions of that metal to the world's stock and raised all nations out of a similar though less profound state of industrial and business depression [illegible]

ARRIVAL OF ALLEGED [illegible]

NEW YORK April 26 Eighty five [illegible] looking men passengers on the steamer [illegible] arrived to-day at Castle Garden, and were detained by the superintendent on the ground that they were going to work on "scab" jobs. They are said to be under contract as masons stone cutters and blacksmiths to work on the new state capitol at Austin Texas The charges were made by the Central labor union of this city The men denied being under any contract It is intended to communicate with the district attorney of this city and Austin Tex to have suit brought against an Austin contractor for violation of the contract labor bill

THE SUGAR REFINERIES STRIKE

NEW YORK April 26 —The strike of sugar house employes at Williamsburgh and Green Point still continues and the situation is unchanged A large force of police is kept at the refineries to prevent any breach of peace or destruction of property Some of the strikers have already gone to other kinds of work

EIGHT HOUR DEMONSTRATION

SHAMOKIN Pa. April 26 The Miners and Laborers Amalgamated association paraded and held a mass meeting to-day Thirty five hundred men were in line It is generally believed that the men will ask for eight hours work with eight hours pay The new order of things will begin May 1st. Arbitration is also looked upon with favor

STRIKING FOR EIGHT HOURS

CHICAGO April 26 —It is reported that workmen in one of the largest brickyards in the city quit work this afternoon owing to a refusal to accede to their demand that eight hours shall constitute a day's work It is expected that the movement will become general in this city

RAILROAD NOTES

TALK OF A RUSSIAN PACIFIC ROAD

NEW YORK, April 26.—The London Globe has the following "The completion of the Canadian Pacific railway has given fresh excitement to discussion among the Russians of their long talked-of line to the Pacific across Siberia to Vladivostock A correspondent of the Times says It will be a long time before Russian locomotives can compete with those of England and America in reaching the shores of the Pacific. The branch to Tiumen has not yet been made, and the section to Ekaterinburg has only lately been decided upon, after years of dispute over conflicting claims of different towns Yet the almost chimerical idea of a Russian Pacific railroad is already talked of and written about as an undertaking of early and easy accomplishment. The addition of the Canadian Pacific railway to those of the United States naturally makes the Russians feel more keenly than ever the disadvantages of their isolated position on the Amoor and Pacific coast

ANOTHER RAILROAD TO BE SOLD

GALVESTON April 26 —A bill of foreclosure against the Houston & Texas Central Railway company was filed in the United States circuit court to-day by the Farmers Loan and Trust company of New York trustee general of the mortgage The mortgage was executed in 1881 It authorized a bond issue of $18 500 000 of which $4 [illegible]0 000 is now outstanding with interest unpaid the balance being held by trustee to replace the first second and third mortgage bonds of the company To-day's suit forces the road to an early sale and embraces between 4 000 000 and 5 000 000 acres of choice land granted to the company by the state of Texas

RATES VIA THE ATCHISON ROAD

CHICAGO April 26 —Announcement was made to-day that taking effect April 26 first class limited fares from the Missouri river to San Francisco via the Atchison road will be $58 second and emigrant $35 to Los Angeles Mojave and points on the California Southern $40 second and emigrant $30 These are flat rates without rebate The forty dollar southern points first class rates is expected to force the Omaha roads to a similar figure or to give up the fight for southern California business

AUCTION SALE OF RAILROADS

ST LOUIS April 26 —The United States commissioners to-day sold under foreclosure of mortgage at public auction, the Wabash St Louis & Pacific railroad the total amount paid for the entire property being $[illegible] The committee appointed by the stock and bondholders to look after their interests were the only bidders and the whole system excepting the St Joseph & St Louis branch was purchased by them W J Nesbitt president purchased the latter road for $1

TO SECURE THEIR RIGHTS

NEW YORK April 26.—A meeting of income land grant bondholders of the Texas & Pacific Railroad company was held here to-day and the following committee was appointed to confer with the company Messrs Simon J Drake Christopher Meyer Wm C Hall of Louisville and Wm Strauss The committee was appointed to secure the rights of the bondholders under the new plan of reorganization

WAITING FOR THE PACIFIC MAIL ELECTION

NEW YORK April [illegible] —The statement is made that the [illegible] of the settlement of the [illegible] is being withheld pending the election of directors of the Pacific Mail Steamship company next month

BLOODY FIGHT WITH MOONSHINERS

CHATTANOOGA Tenn April 26 —A special to the Times from Manchester Coffee county Tenn gives details of a bloody tragedy enacted there shortly after midnight this morning in which United States Deputy Marshal Webb Purdon of Manchester and a moonshiner named Clark were killed and three other moonshiners fatally wounded About ten days ago Purdon [illegible] Deputy Marshal Hughes [illegible] a raid among the illicit distilleries of Grundy county Tennessee and [illegible] and destroyed several stills Between [illegible] and [illegible] this morning fifteen moonshiners rode into Manchester determined to have Purdon's life Seven broke into his house and the others surrounded it Purdon met them as they entered with a revolver and a terrible battle ensued Two moonshiners fell to the floor mortally wounded and the gang retreated but they had succeeded in fatally wounding Purdon. Disabled as he was he seized a double barreled shotgun and fired into the retreating gang and two more fell mortally wounded Purdon then fell dead beside the body of one of his victims The gang carried off their wounded companions A large posse is now in pursuit of them

PROHIBITION DEFEATED IN VIRGINIA

RICHMOND April [illegible] —Prohibition met with an overwhelming defeat here to-day the election resulting in a majority of 5681 in favor of the licensing of liquors The vote at Manchester was an anti prohibition majority of 52 The vote in both this city and Manchester was nearly as large as in the presidential election. Under the law it can not be renewed for two years The colored vote was almost unanimously anti prohibition

REJOINDER TO REV S. P WILSON

EAST PORTLAND April [illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In the last reply of Mr Wilson to my proposition it seems that the poor man is getting bewildered and is losing the track entirely Instead of making me white and apologize for my arrogance in daring to make such a proposition to the school board in a place where Mr Wilson imagined himself (for these Methodist preachers imagine a good deal) to be the master of the situation Mr Wilson begins his reply If reply it can be called by saying that "this discussion is to be run into a petty little piece of dirt throwing" then I am [illegible] with the whole matter [illegible]

The reader will see at a glance how much this poor parson has been trying to divert the attention of the public from my first proposition and instead of showing the reasons why it should not be accepted by the school directors last fall [illegible] he has been telling his readers nothing but old stale stories against the Romish church If I have followed him more or less in his insane ramblings it was to divert and amuse myself alike and [illegible] I have afforded the same pleasant recreation to my readers I feel myself sufficiently repaid for my last time [illegible]

HENRY A MOTT Jr Ph D F C S Prof Chem [illegible] New York Medical College and [illegible] says My investigation of Allcock's Porous Plaster shows it to contain valuable and essential ingredients not present in any other plaster These ingredients are so perfectly proportioned that the Allcock's Porous Plaster will not cause blisters or excessive irritation and I find it superior to and more efficient than any other plaster." Imitations and counterfeits of this valuable remedy are being offered for sale so when purchasing Allcock's Porous Plasters do not fail to see that the registered trade-mark stamp is on each plaster, as none are genuine without it.

A Sydney report dated March 25 contains the following concerning salmon At the beginning of the month salmon reached 8s and remained firm at that figure for some little time but during the last week it suffered a decline and may now be quoted at 7s [illegible] This is owing no doubt to the export demand falling off somewhat suddenly

The New York Commercial Bulletin says "The sugar market has latterly shown excellent form and appears in a fair way for substantial and permanent improvement The latest authoritative returns confirm the claims of shortage in the crops In round numbers the receipts are [illegible] tons less and stocks are [illegible] tons [illegible] United States than for the corresponding date last year A[illegible] more significant fact is that the total stocks [illegible] have within the past fortnight changed from nearly one hundred thousand tons excess to some [illegible] 000 tons less than last year at this time These remarkable changes have [illegible] a decided feeling of confidence among all the holders of raw sugar The strength of the local position is greatly enhanced by the fact that refiners are poorly supplied

Surface Indications

What a miner would very properly term "surface indications" of what is beneath, are the Pimples, Sties, Sore Eyes, Boils, and Cutaneous Eruptions with which people are annoyed in spring and early summer. The effete matter [illegible] during the winter months, now [illegible] its presence felt, through Nature's efforts to expel it from the system. While it remains, it is a poison that festers in the blood and may develop into Scrofula. This condition causes derangement of the digestive and assimilatory organs, [illegible] and weariness [illegible] These are evidences that Nature is not able, unaided, to throw off the corrupt atoms which weaken the vital forces. [illegible] with Nature must be had by a thorough blood purifying medicine, and nothing else is so effective as which is sufficiently powerful to expel from the system even the taint of Hereditary Scrofula.

The medical profession indorse AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, and many attestations of the cures effected by it come from all parts of the world. It is, in the language of the Hon. Francis Jewett, ex-State Senator of Massachusetts and ex-Mayor of Lowell, "the only preparation that does real, lasting good."
